The Race Organiser set the course to place the fleet in the south of the lake in order to take advantage of the predicted strong Southerly, forecast to arrive after mid-day. It did arrive around 2pm.

In the hour before the southerly arrived, boats were scattered all over the lake each being sent in a different direction by the mini zephyrs masquerading as "wind".

A protest was lodged by one boat in order to request a time correction for another competitor boat that had rounded a mark, apparently in the wrong direction. The boat that committed the apparent error returned to the mark and re-rounded. There was significant confusion about the rounding being a port or starboard rounding so the protest committee accepted the request for a time correction. The situation received significant animated discussion at the medal presentation. The boats that scored DNC were actually present on the day, signed on, however since they did not cross the start line they had to be scored DNC. A DNF score requires the boat to have crossed the start line.
